Five Senses Journal

Use this journal to document your sensory experience as you explore the Marjorie McNeely Conservatory

Smell

Each garden in the conservatory is full of many different smells. As you stroll, smell some individual plants and see if you can find a favorite and a least favorite.

Sight

Each garden is an incredible sight to lay eyes on. Use the space below to sketch anything that you find particularly visually appealing.

Touch

The gardens are full of different textures. Gently explore how different plants feel. Did any textures surprise you?

Listen

Find a spot to sit in the conservatory. Close your eyes. Take a minute or so to listen to the sounds you hear. Open your eyes and write down your experience.

Taste

The North Garden is full of not only beautiful, but edible plants. Make a note of some edible fruits or plants that you have never tasted and keep an eye out for them the next time you are at the grocery store!

The plants in the North Garden are NOT for consumption
